This seminar will be presented by Attorney Patrick Rogers- author of a number of textbooks and periodicals concerning Massachusetts Law & Procedure.

This intensive seminar is designed specifically for public safety E911 dispatchers will thoroughly examine their duties and responsibilities concerning the disclosure the criminal offender record information (CORI), sex offender registry information (SORI), III, WMS and public records.

We will address precisely how law enforcement officials are permitted to disclose CORI to victims of serious crimes. We will also specifically address the legal sanctions which can be taken against police departments by violating the CORI statutes.

A thorough breakdown of CORI & Sex Offender Registry Information and WMS will be discussed. (We will thoroughly address arrest warrant issues). What protection exists if a dispatcher gives out CORI or SORI in violation of law?

The second area of discussion will be on Massachusetts Public Records Law. We will address precisely what type of police records can be disclosed. We will also address the various exemptions which exist permitting PD's to withhold certain items from public scrutiny. We will specifically address whether information obtained by the public safety dispatcher is a public record. We will address what is a public record and what is not.

Computer records are subject to the public records law. We will address how information logged by dispatchers can be subject to disclosure.
